Brand Snapshot

Army Industries is an established manufacturer and seller of office chairs and accessories, with over 20 years in the industry trusted by businesses of all sizes for ergonomic, stylish seating solutions. The brand operates through its own website and direct client relationships rather than online marketplaces.

My involvement: end-to-end digital presence, operations, marketplace management, and sales/procurement support over a 3+ year engagement one of the most complete, cross-functional roles in my portfolio.

Role & Scope

WHAT I OWNED FOR ARMY INDUSTRIES

1. Website creation & optimization built and optimized armyindustries.com from scratch
2. Operations & chat support handled customer queries and day-to-day operational communication
3. Marketplace management managed the brand's presence and listings on Pepperfry
4. Product photography & catalogue creation shot and compiled the product catalogue
5. Sales pitching presented and pitched new chair models directly to customers
6. Procurement sourced and negotiated raw material purchases across vendors for better pricing

Website Build & Optimization

Live at: www.armyindustries.com

Built and optimized the company's website from the ground up including brand storytelling ("About Us," "Our Offerings") a buyer's guide to help customers choose the right chair, and clear conversion paths (brochure download, contact, social links). The site now serves as the brand's primary digital storefront, reflecting 20+ years of manufacturing credibility in a modern, easy-to-navigate format.

Product Photography & Catalogue Creation

Shot and compiled product photography across the chair range from ergonomic office chairs to bar stools and accessories feeding directly into the company's catalogue and website "Offerings" section.

Client Account Management

pepperrfry

CASACRAFT FROM PEPPERFRY

MINTWUD FROM PEPPERFRY

Managed Army Industries' relationship with Pepperfry, a major B2B customer handling order coordination, communication, and account servicing to maintain a smooth, reliable supply relationship with one of the company's key accounts

Sales & Procurement

SALES PITCHING

Directly pitched new chair models to customers, translating product features into value propositions for corporate and retail buyers.

PROCUREMENT

Sourced raw materials from multiple vendors and negotiated pricing directly supporting production cost efficiency for the company.

Contribution Summary

Over 3+ years, built and ran Army Industries' digital storefront from scratch while simultaneously supporting operations, marketplace presence, sales, and procurement a rare combination of digital and commercial ownership for a single role.
